

1. This is the start screen display of the app. Clicking on the three dots at the top reveals a menu with 2 options: Settings and About.

2. The user has the choice to select either option. If the user selects the 'About' option, a basic description of the app is displayed.

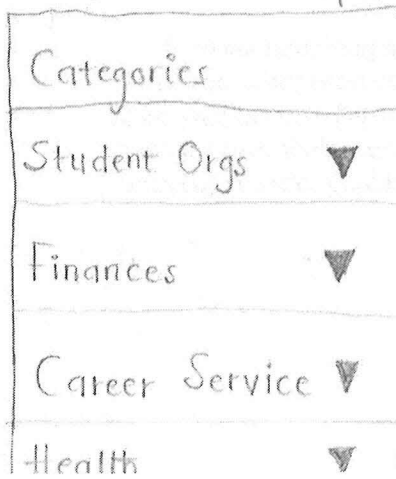

3. If the user selects the 'Settings' option, the sub-option 'Categories' is displayed.

4. For this, we said if we had no other sub-option to include under the Settings option, we'd consider renaming the 'Settings' option to 'Categories'.

5. Therefore, the user can filter items under a category according to his/her preferences.

5. The user clicks on the 'Categories' sub-option.

6. This displays the list of categories (which are solid and not filterable).

7. Clicking on a category reveals its contents which are filterable as shown in this diagram.
